General Information

Short summary

Bulgarian company, producer of healthy cold-pressed unrefined oils, is looking for distributors or producers of various organic seeds and nuts. The products must be suitable for the method of coldpressing, used in the manufacturing activity of the company and have the relevant bio certification. Potential partners must be willing to supply small quantities at the beginning.

Full description

Bulgarian family-owned company produces healthy organic high quality oils from seeds and nuts by the method of coldpressing. This method of production makes it possible to maintain all the beneficial properties of the substances they have been extracted from. Oils are a mixture of useful and irreplaceable fats. Cold-pressed oils have a wide range of applications and could be used in the:

- food industry – as ingredient of salad dressing or sauces, etc.;
- cosmetics – as basic raw materials in the production of hygiene and beauty products (soaps, shampoos, body creams, hair dyes, etc.);
- pharmaceuticals – as ingredient of medicines or as food supplements. The company has a wide range of oils, extracted from the seeds and nuts of various plants, such as sunflower, pumpkin, apricot, linseed, hemp, black cumin, white thistle, sesame, chia, safflower, hazelnut, watermelon, etc. The company also produces specific types of customized oils as per the client's requests. They can produce oils on request and with customers' raw materials from organically certified seeds and nuts.

The Bulgarian company is looking for distributors or producers of organic seeds and nuts which they cannot source locally, such as flax seeds, pumpkin seeds, apricot kernel, sesame seeds, milk thistle seeds, evening primrose seeds, black cumin /Nigella sativa/, safflower seeds, etc.

The company has a preference for potential partners from neighbouring countries but it's not a mandatory requirement.
